SECTION 5 – AGENCY DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

Shepparton Foodshare’s rules of operation mean that we are only permitted to distribute food or aid to agencies who themselves provide that food or aid to individuals who find themselves in a position of financial necessity.

In other words, a person is seen to be in a position of financial necessity if they don't have enough financial resources to have a modest standard of living in Australia. A strong indicator of this would be where a person's level of income is such that they are eligible to receive income tested government benefits. Other indicators are health needs (such as sickness or disability) and family responsibilities. Such non-financial needs can cause financial necessity.

By signing and submitting this application, you agree that:

- you will only provide food and aid received from Shepparton Foodshare to your clients on the condition that they meet this requirement of financial necessity.
- Shepparton Foodshare may ask you at any time for evidence that your clients to whom you provide the food and aid meet this requirement of financial necessity; and
- You will not sell or offer for sale any food or aid received from Shepparton Foodshare or demand any other payment or reward from your clients in exchange for provision of the food and aid.
